

Woods Offers Guilty Plea To Leslie Killing Of Alex Bowling

A 33-year old Leslie County man, Henry Woods, Jr., has been charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of ex-Leslie County Deputy Alex Bowling on Christmas Day at Ozola Vanbrunt's Restaurant near Asher.

Woods offered a plea of guilty to the charges at his examining trial in Leslie County Court Tuesday, and County Judge George Wooton set his trial for the March term of Leslie Circuit Court.

Woods, who is free on $10,000 bond, was accused of killing Bowling at the restaurant about 5:30 p.m. Christmas evening after an argument apparently occurred between the two earlier.

Bowling, 44, was dismissed from the Leslie County Sheriff's staff on December 20 for being drunk and shooting up his home according to officials.

The slaying occurred about two miles south of the Asher Post Office on Middle Fork of Leslie County, approximately 14 miles south of Hyden. Bowling was shot with a 38 Caliber revolver.

Kentucky State Police said Bowling was shot twice, once in the right elbow and once near his heart.

Eye witnesses explained to state police this situation:

"Alex Bowling and Henry Woods had been seated at a table in Ozola Vanbrunt's restaurant when Bowling got up and walked around behind Woods and done something to Woods' back. Woods turned and grabbed Bowling by the right hand. Both men struggled, then Woods drew a pistol and began to fire—shooting four times while striking Bowling twice."

Woods made the following remarks to the KSP, but refused to sign a written statement:

"Woods, Robert Bowling, Arnold Muncy and Claude Hoskins were riding around in Woods' pickup truck drinking a fifth of whiskey. Woods stopped at Zack Colwell's grocery store at Asher to buy a coke chaser. Bowling was in the store and had been drinking. Woods told Bowling that he had a fifth of whiskey and offered Bowling a drink. Bowling then got into the truck and had five or six drinks from the fifth of whiskey."

All the above mentioned then went on up Middle Fork on Kentucky Highway 1780 and stopped at Ozola Vanbrunt's restaurant and went inside where Woods and Bowling sat down at a table and ordered two cups of coffee. Woods stated that Bowling had what he (Woods) believed to be a 38 caliber five-inch barreled revolver stuck down in the left side of his waist and Bowling kept pulling the gun out and moving it to the right side.

Bowling then got up from the table and walked around behind Woods. Woods turned and observed Bowling with the gun in his right hand and had it in Woods' back. Woods grabbed the barreled of the pistol and they began to struggle. Woods then drew a 38 Caliber two-inch barreled revolver from his right front pocket and started to fire."

State Policeman B. F. Dees, investigating officer, stated that he could not find a weapon on or near Bowling when he arrived at the scene, but that Jim Bowling, brother-in-law to the victim, said he (Jim) picked up a 32-20 five-inch barreled revolver from near Bowling's body and placed the gun on a counter in the restaurant.

Jim explained that he picked the gun up because the weapon belonged to him, and that he had loaned the gun to Alex Bowling earlier in the day.

Two Perry Tavern Owners To Appear Before ABC Board

Two business establishments selling alcoholic beverages in Perry County have been summoned to appear for a hearing before the Kentucky Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in January at Frankfort for violations of state laws.

In a released statement from the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, the board said that a hearing will be held on January 14, 1966, at Frankfort for Ruth Clemons of Combs and Harry Francis and Juanita Francis of Avawam.

According to the board Clemons violated the law of selling and delivering distilled spirits from her premises at a time when her license was suspended by the board.

Boars Statement

The statement said: Violation of KRS 243.480. More particularly, you, your agents, servants and/or employees did on October 9, 1965, and on October 10, 1965, sell and deliver distilled spirits from your licensed premises to an agent of this department, at a time when your license were suspended by Order No. B-838 of this department which suspended your retail package liquor license and retail beer license for the period beginning Sunday, September 26, 1965, and ending Saturday, October 16, 1965, in violation of the above statute.

Sold On Sunday

The department explained that agents of their office observed Harry and Juanita Francis selling and delivering whiskey to a patron on their premises on Sunday, October 10, 1965, which is also a violation of the state law.

Concerning the Francis' establishment, the board commented: Violation of KRS 244.290. More particularly, agents of this department did on Sunday, October 10, 1965, at approximately 10:15 a.m. observe you selling and delivering a one-half pint bottle of whiskey to a patron on your licensed premises, in violation of the above statute.

A. B. Meade, Malt Beverage Administrator and R. Carey Graham, Distilled Spirits Administrator said the Francis would appear before the board at 2 p.m. on January 14, and Clemons would go before the group at 1 p.m. January 14.

Auto Stolen Near Home at Avawam

A stolen automobile has been reported to Kentucky State Police, Robert G. Russell of Avawam has reported that his 1960 model Ford was stolen sometime during the night of December 28.

The car is dark blue in color and wears Perry County License Plate Number 836-453. The serial number is OF51WH8483.

Anyone having information that would lead to the recovery of the auto should report it to the Hazard Post of the Kentucky State Police.

City Police Warn Vandals Of Law

Vandals made Tuesday night one of agony for City Police as someone, with the help of those ever present illegal fireworks badly damaged two soft drink vendors and a mail box, all within a six minute period.

City Police received a call at 9 p.m. Tuesday night that someone had tampered with a mail box on Laurel Street, near the Cash Food Market.

Upon investigating, officers and federal postal inspectors found that a content of fireworks had been placed inside the metal box and had discharged damaging the box beyond repair.

Several pieces of mail were in the box at the time, they too were destroyed.

At 9:01 p.m., a second call came to police headquarters saying that some one had broken into a soft drink cooler located just across the street from the damaged mail box.

The vandals had attempted to force the door open on the machine but discovered it was out of order and contained no money.

Five minutes later calls were received informing police that "pop machines" had been hit near Taulbee Furniture Company and Maggard's Typewriter Repair, both on High Street.

Here the thieves placed some sort of fireworks in the bottling opening section to spring the door open and make it easier to reach the coin box. Both coin boxes were taken from these two machines and a small quantity of money.

Hazard City Police are investigating the three vending machine robberies while federal postal inspectors are continuing their probe of the mail box case.

Tampering with a U. S. Mail Box is punishable by a $1,000 fine and imprisonment.

Masonic Lodge Has Special Meet

At a called meeting of Hazard Lodge No. 676 F and A. M. on Monday, December 27th, the following officers were elected: Worshipful Master, H. T. Stewart; Senior Warden, Otis Rowe; Junior Warden, Bill Burke; Treasurer, Elmer Campbell; Secretary, Hugh Standifer; Senior Deacon, Dan Maggard; Junior Deacon, Wm. G. Herald; Trustee, Charles D. Turner; Tiler, Allen Stidham; Senior Stewart, Fontaine Grigsby; Junior Stewart, Johnnie Joseph; Chaplain, Lowell Boggs.

After the election, the new officers were installed by Right Worshipful David Smith, who is the Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the state of Kentucky.

All members are strongly urged to attend the regular meetings on the second Monday and fourth Saturday of each month and support these new officers.

Sheriff's Department Places 17 In Jail

Perry County Sheriff's Department reported today that 17 arrests were made over the Christmas holiday weekend.

Twelve persons were arrested and charged with public drunkenness Friday night, December 24, and five others were escorted to the Perry County jail Saturday.

Chief Deputy "Deputy Dog" Farler along with deputies Carl Smith and Arlis Begley made the arrests for the sheriff's department.

City Police Warn Five Arrested In KSP Raid At Tribbey

A second gambling raid was completed over the Christmas weekend by the Kentucky State Police when five men were arrested on gambling charges at Tribbey Sunday evening.

Sergeant Willard Mitchell, troopers Homer Howard and Paul Russell of the KSP along with Perry County deputy Gordon Fugate raided the two-room dwelling of Jim Kilburn at Tribbey and confiscated $75.25 in the process.

Police reports state that the law officers forced their way into Kilburn's home then arrested the five after observing money and cards on the table.

Arrested were: Leonard Crase, 38, of Tribbey; David Brewer, 30, of Hazard; Jim Kilburn, 50, of Tribbey; Lee Hurt, 26, of Tribbey; and Raymond Whitaker, 30, of Brownsburg, Indiana.

All six were charged with gambling and Kilburn was hit with another charge of permitting gambling on his premises.

The six were lodged in the Perry County jail, but were released when all but Crase pleaded guilty before Magistrate Pearl Strong to the charges of gambling and paid fines of $34.50 each.

Crases case was dismissed by Strong when witnesses testified that he was only watching, and not playing.

Strong dismissed the charge against Kilburn of permitting gambling on his premises when Kilburn pleaded guilty to the first charge.

A total of nine persons were arrested over the weekend on gambling charges by the Thin Grey Line.

3 Men Arrested In Auto At Busy For Gambling

Two Perry County men and a Cincinnati resident were arrested Christmas Day on gambling charges, and were fined $20 and court costs each by Perry County Judge Babe C. Noplis.

Kentucky State Police, reportedly, observed a poker game in session in a parked car at Busy about 3 p.m. on December 25, then apprehended the three on the charges.

Arrested and fined were: Wilton Fields, 28, of Cincinnati; Troy Whitehead, 39, of Busy and Jackson Wooton, 30, of Busy.

All three pleaded guilty to the charges before Noplis.

Troopers Homer Howard and Jerry Pitcock handled the case for the Thin Grey Line.

Breathitt Man Under $500 Bond Following Raid

State Police confiscated 16 half-pints of whiskey in a raid four miles north of Jackson on Monday, December 27, and have placed charges against Arlie Howard, of Breathitt County.

According to police reports, Howard had the 16 half-pints of whiskey in possession at a junk yard which he operates.

Howard was placed in the Breathitt County jail, but later released on $500 bond to answer any indictment before the March term of the Breathitt Grand Jury.

Making the raid for the Thin Grey Line were Troopers Billy Johns and John Adams.

Fiscal Court Sends Request To Governor

The outgoing Perry County Fiscal Court held its last meeting Tuesday at the temporary courthouse, and closed out its administration by passing a resolution to keep the state TB Program under the leadership of both the hospital association and the state health department.

Opposition has made an attempt to eliminate the state health department from the TB Program, and let the hospital association handle the program entirely.

Sends Resolution To Gov.

In sending the resolution to Governor Edward Breathitt, the court said that letting the hospital association control the program would mean many people in our area would not receive its services as in the past.

Presently, the program is brought to the Perry County Health Department periodically according to Dr. Lyndon Combs, head of the local health agency.

Combs went before the court and described the case.

If the opposition succeeds in turning the complete program over to the hospital association, then persons will have to travel to the TB Hospital at London for examinations instead of Hazard according to a spokesman.

In other action, the fiscal court agreed to hire Farmer Johnson to audit the sheriff's books for $250, so the new sheriff could begin collecting taxes immediately after taking office on January 3, 1966.

Bradley Combs Resigns

Bradley Combs, Magistrate of District 5, resigned his position at the meeting because of ill health. His resignation is effective at 12 midnight, December 29, 1965.

The outgoing fiscal court is composed of County Judge Babe C. Noplis, seven of eight magistrates. The seven are: Fess Halcomb, Bradley Combs, Pearl Strong, Jake Gwin, Emory Noble, Han Napier and Irvin Morris.

Engle Re-Elected

Magistrate Curt Engle is the only county magistrate to win re-election.

Seven newly elected magistrates along with new County Judge Harve Hensley will take office on January 3, 1966.

The seven new magistrates are: Jesse Paul Engle, Denver Miniard, Edd J. Combs, Monroe Riley, Walter Holliday, Astor Campbell, and Arnold Combs.

Hazard Citizens Band Radio Club To Meet Jan. 5

The Hazard Citizen's Band Radio Club will hold its first meeting of the New Year Wednesday, January 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the Kentucky Power Company Building at Lothair.

All regular members and all new members are urged to attend this very important meeting.

Anyone interested in joining the CB club should also be at this meeting.

TONIGHT IN THE ASHLAND INVITATIONAL TOURNEY

Unbeaten Hazard Clashes With Male

Hazard's "Rosey" Bulldogs, unbeaten in seven starts, clash with powerful Louisville Male tonight at Paul Blazer Gymnasium in the second game of the semi-final round of the Ashland Invitational Tournament at 8:30 p.m. with the winner taking the early role as "the team" in Kentucky schoolboy basketball.

Performing in this contest will be four of the best five hoopers in the commonwealth according to state cage coaches. In a pre-season poll coaches voted Hazard's Jimmy Rose, Chester Rose and Freddy Hogg as the first, third and fifth best in the state in that order. Male's sensational Ted Rose was tabbed as the second best in Kentucky behind Jimmy Rose.

Roses Pace Win

Jimmy and Chester gave the Bulldogs all the necessary offense last night in the Ashland Tourney as the two combined for 47 points, and paced the canines to a 67-55 win over previously unbeaten Russell.

Jimmy's uncanny shooting enabled the Bulldogs to storm in front 40-28 at the midway point as Hazard's awesome front line out rebounded Russell 53-37.

Freddy Hogg didn't have one of his best nights, offensive wise, but the 6-4 senior forward hauled down 19 rebounds, high in the contest.

Six-foot-seven sophomore Tom Roberts kept Russell in the game the first nine minutes, but picked up his fourth personal foul with 2:44 left in the first half after racking up eight points during the same period. Roberts left the game via the foul route with 2:57 left in the first period with 14 points to his credit.

Russell drew first blood in the quarter-final battle on a 15 footer by Roger Abbott for a 2-0 lead, but the Bulldogs took command of the tilt when Jimmy Rose hit a gratis shot and came back with a two-pointer for an 8-7 lead with 5:01 to go in the opening quarter.

Behind the consistent shooting of the Roses who ripped the nets for 31 points during the first 16 minutes, Hazard pulled out to a 40-28 half-time lead after holding a 19-14 first period edge.

Russell's 5-10 senior playmaker, Buddy Castle, ran into foul trouble in the third stanza, and ended the contest with only 12 points. But Bulldog guard David Baker was more responsible for Castle's below par performance than the foul situation. Baker gave Castle fits all night as Castle never had a chance to take command.

During the third period Russell shifted its defense to Jimmy Rose, but Chester Rose and Freddy Hogg came on to take up the slack, and provide the Shackmen with the necessary power for the 67-55 win.

Chester paced all scorers with 24 points on eight field goals and eight of eleven free throws while Jimmy followed closely behind with 23 points on nine two-pointers and five of eight charity shots. Carl Mahan led Russell, now 8-1 in season play, with 16 points.

Expansion Separates WKIC Radio-Television

Effective January First, 1966, live broadcasting on channel four of the Hazard Television Company will be handled completely by personnel of the Hazard Television Company.

According to officials of The Mountain Broadcasting Service Inc., which operates WKIC, the radio will not be affiliated with the Hazard Television as has been the case since April 1st of this year when live local broadcasting on channel four was begun.

The Hazard Television Company and WKIC entered into an agreement April 1st under which equipment for local live broadcasting would be furnished by the TV company, and WKIC radio would manage, program and staff the new facility.

Local television news, public affairs programs and fund raising drives for worthy causes have been some of the featured programs on channel four. Numerous people have indicated that channel four's broadcasting has met with high public approval.

WKIC's agreement with The Hazard Television Company was for a period of nine months which expires December 31. William D. Gorman, General Manager of The Hazard Television Company, in commenting on the new operational setup, said, "We feel that local live TV and Radio both have a place in this community." "Our hopes are to expand the services of channel four to provide even better coverage and high quality local TV broadcasting."

Gorman said further, "We plan to continue cooperating with WKIC and all other communications media in this community to upgrade the cultural level of our area and work for a better Eastern Kentucky."

Postman Playing Santa Claus

False beards are too hot for Vietnam, so the son of a Shiloh, Ohio couple is playing the delivery role of Santa Claus minus the whiskers.

Airman First Class Jennings B. Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Francis of 53 Petit St., Shiloh, is a postal specialist with Detachment 19 of the 9th Air Postal Squadron in Saigon. He and his military co-workers handle over 500,000 pounds of Christmas mail daily. They work 12 to 14 hours a day in the back-breaking effort to get the flood of packages and cards delivered before the 25th.

However, Airman Francis and his fellow postmen don't mind the long, hot hours. They know how much that mail from home means to the fighting men in Vietnam.

The airman is a graduate of Shiloh High School.

His wife, Mable, is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Back of Smithsboro, Ky.

A REGULATION OF THE KNOTT COUNTY BOARD OF HEALTH ADOPTING THE STATE PLUMBING CODE FOR KNOTT COUNTY REGULATING THE INSTALLATION OF PLUMBING, DRAINAGE AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEMS; DESIGNATING APPROVED TYPES OF MATERIALS, FIXTURES AND METHODS OF INSTALLATION; REQUIRING PLUMBING CONSTRUCTION PERMITS TO BE PROCURED PRIOR TO INSTALLATION AND PROVIDING FOR PLUMBING INSTALLATION PERMIT FEES; PLUMBING INSPECTION SERVICES; AND A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF REGULATION AS PROVIDED BY LAW.

Authority. This regulation is adopted and issued pursuant to the authority of Section 818.015 (2) of the Kentucky Revised Statutes.

Be it resolved by the Board of Health of Knott County: Section 1. State Plumbing Code Adopted by Reference. The State Plumbing Code promulgated by the State Board of Health on file with the Legislative Research Commission, Frankfort, Kentucky, a copy of which is on file in the office of the Knott County Health Department, Hindman, Kentucky, is hereby adopted by reference and made a part hereof to the same extent as if set out in full herein. Provided, however, that Section 1 of Regulation PC-1 of said State Plumbing Code shall not apply and provided further that this Regulation shall not apply to "Farmsteads" as defined by KRS 318.010 (9). Permits to construct, install, or alter plumbing, sewerage, or drainage within Knott County may be issued to any persons upon proper application and payment of the prescribed fee as set forth in PC-1, Sections 2 and 3.

Section 2. Plumbing Installation Permits Required. No person shall construct, install or alter any plumbing, sewerage or drainage system within Knott Co. without first having procured a plumbing installation permit from the county plumbing inspector; provided however, that no permit shall be required for the repair of leaks, corks, valves, or for cleaning out waste or sewer lines. All plumbing shall comply with the State Plumbing Code.

Section 3. Penalty. As provided by KRS 318.090 any person who violates any provision of this regulation shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor imprisoned for not more than ninety (90) days or both for each offense. Each day the violation continues constitutes a separate offense.

Section 4. Partial Invalidity. Affect—Of. If any word, clause or section of this regulation shall be declared invalid, the invalidity thereof shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions.

Section 5. Repeals. All regulations or parts of regulations of the Knott County Board of Health in conflict herewith are to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed.

Section 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. This regulation shall become effective December 8, 1965.

The undersigned D. G. Barker, MD, states that he is Secretary of the Knott County Board of Health and that the foregoing Regulation was duly adopted by the Knott County Board of Health at a meeting held at December 8, 1965, Hindman, Ky. on the 8th day of Dec. 1965.

Reports Released On Number of Local Retailers By Louisville Firm

Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., international business information agency now marking its 125th year, has just released latest statistics on the business population of Perry County. Mr. James W. Hill, III, District Manager of the Louisville, Kentucky, office of Dun and Bradstreet, reports that figures obtained by a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1966 show there are 420 retailers, wholesalers, and manufacturers locally, as compared with 414 a year ago. A count of some of the larger cities showed Louisville 7,140, Lexington 2,157, Bowling Green 724, Owensboro 916, Paducah 920, Evansville Indiana 2,410, Indianapolis 546, New Albany 457 and Vincennes, Indiana 589.

Founded in 1841 in New York City, the Dun and Bradstreet organization now includes nearly 240 offices in the United States and abroad. The company was originally established to collect and report data on merchants on the western frontier in order to promote trade, and has been gathering financial and credit data on firms of all types ever since.

Today, Dun and Bradstreet lists nearly three million businesses and their current credit ratings in its Reference Book, which is continually being revised and is published six times a year. Each year, all businesses, regardless of size, are asked to send copies of their financial statements to Dun and Bradstreet, whose reporters collect supplementary facts and profile each business in comprehensive credit reports, widely used by suppliers, insurance companies, bankers, and service concerns.

This is the world's largest regularly published volume and is revised every 6 days to keep the listings current. Over the past 60 days, over 61,000 names were added and 60,000 removed. During this period, rating changes were made on over 103,000 business names.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise, or his accountant, fills in and mails his financial statement to Dun and Bradstreet, it becomes a part of the credit report on his business. Mailing the statement, rather than waiting for the Dun and Bradstreet reporter's call means a concern's important suppliers will quickly have the latest facts on which to make credit and sales decisions. When the Dun and Bradstreet reporter receives a businessman's financial statement in advance of his periodic call, he can make a more detailed analysis of the financial condition of the business and discuss its operation more intelligently.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun and Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: history of the business; two owners it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating; a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial.

Social Security Yearly Changes Are Noted

Since the Social Security Law was passed on August 14, 1935, it has grown from a very modest insurance program to one which provides protection to 9 out of 10 workers and their dependents.

Social Security tax bases and tax rates changed many times since the inception of the program in 1937. From 1937-1950, the tax base was $3000, 1951-1954 $3600.00, 1955-1958 $4200.00, 1959-1965 $4800.00, and beginning January 1, 1966 $6600.00.

The tax rate has also changed from a low of 1% from 1937-1950 to a rate beginning 1-1-66 of 3.85% for employees and employers and 5.80% for self-employed persons.

There will be an additional tax of .35% which will be the same for employers, employees, and self-employed persons, which will be used strictly for financing the Hospital Insurance part of "MEDICARE" under Social Security.

From 1937-1950 the Social Security tax for employees and employers was only $30 a year with payments made to individual workers only. Since that time benefit payments have been extended to a worker's dependents and survivors and payments are also made in disability cases as well as in retirement cases.

Monthly benefit payments have risen from a possible maximum benefit of $45.60 in 1940 to a possible maximum of $393.00 after a person has paid in a sufficient number of years under the $6600.00 base. This is an increase of over 8 times. The rise in benefit amounts has kept pace with the increase in taxes but in addition benefits have been extended to protect wage earners, their dependents and survivors, and disabled workers and their dependents.

In addition, retirement age has been lowered from 65 to 62 for wage earners and self-employed persons. Recent amendments extended coverage to students from age 18 through age 21 and also extends coverage to dependent divorced wives and lowered retirement age for widows from age 62 to age 60. Many other provisions have been liberalized.

In order for the Social Security Program to be financially sound taxes must be increased when higher benefits are paid and coverage extended to different groups of workers.

To summarize, the rise in benefit amounts have kept pace with the rise in taxes, but in addition the law has extended coverage from the wage earner only in 1940, to the wage earner and his dependents and survivors, and disabled persons and their dependents in 1965. Also, beginning July 1966, hospital insurance and medical insurance coverage will be extended to people age 65 and over.

Social Security Taxes can be used only for payment of benefits and administrative expenses of the program.

Parker Receives State Promotion

David E. Parker, Jr., has been promoted to chief of field operations for the State Employment Service, effective January 1. Economic Security Commissioner C. Leslie Dawson said Parker, 44, replaces Henry H. Mayse, who will be retiring after 27 years of service.

Parker has been with the Economic Security Department since early 1949, most recently as an area supervisor for the employment service over local offices in Frankfort, Lexington, Winchester, Covington, Harlan and Middlesboro. He has also served with the department's division of unemployment insurance as a claims examiner, field investigator and appeals referee.

A World War II veteran, Parker received his college degree in political science at the University of Kentucky in 1948.

ASK ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been seeing a psychiatrist who is supposed to be tops in this city. He has helped me a lot and the treatments are worth every cent I have spent.

It will be two years next month since I began to see this doctor. He talks to me endlessly about his house which he dislikes because it is too small. He has confided that his children are maladjusted because he over-reacts to them. (He says psychiatrists' children suffer because their parents are forever searching for signs of abnormal behavior.) I know, too, that his wife has an unhealthy attachment to her father.

Yesterday all I did was listen. At the end of the session, I felt like saying, "That will be $25, please."

As I said, this psychiatrist has done me a world of good and I have no intention of discontinuing treatment until he tells me I should, but I'm beginning to think I am the therapist and he is the patient. What is your opinion?—TABLES TURNED.

Dear Tables: This man's behavior is so unprofessional that I wonder if he really is a psychiatrist. But if the therapy has worked for you, who am I to pull the plug?

Dear Ann Landers: I did a rotten thing to my best friend and now I don't know who to patch it up. Please help me before I crack up.

Eloise and I have been like sisters since we were in the fifth grade. Now we are both 16. Eloise was going with Sid and I decided I would try to get him away just to see if I could. I made a play for him and it worked. In fact it worked so good that he won't leave me alone.

Sid calls every night and I am so bored with his dumb ways that I want to hang up when I hear his voice. He has bought me two record albums and a box of candy. Last week he wrote a couple of poems for me that are icky.

Eloise tries to be sweet but I can see the hurt look in her eyes and I hate myself. Please tell me what to do about this ugly mess.—SELF MADE TROUBLE.

Dear Trouble: Give Urpy the word and right away. Just tell him he is not for you and that's that.

People who break all the rules to get what they want usually find it really wasn't worth the trouble. Right

Dear Ann Landers: There seems to be a lot of fighting back and forth in your column over whether the parents should attempt to help their children with their homework if the teacher fails to get something across in school. This letter should settle it.

Last night was visiting night at my child's school. This is what the fourth grade teacher said:

"If your child comes home and asks you to help him because he does not understand something, please send us a note saying he needs extra attention. Don't try to teach him yourself. This is the teacher's job. A youngster sometimes becomes confused if too many people attempt to instruct him."

I was very happy to learn that my child's teacher is so conscientious. She recognizes her responsibility and wants to live up to it. How many other teachers are in her league?—A LUCKY MOTHER

Dear Lucky: More than you think. I keep being impressed anew by the qualities of the teachers I meet. And I've seen a great many these past 10 years.

Miss Rita Kay Gross

Gross-Kerr Engagement Told

Mrs. Rita D. Gross, of Hazard, announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Rita Kay, to Mr. James Ronald Kerr, son of Mrs. James Kerr, 3803 Garfield Avenue, Louisville.

The bride is a graduate of Hazard High School and is attending Eastern State College where she is a Sophomore. Mr. Kerr is a graduate of Shawnee High School and Lindsey Wilson Junior College. He is a Senior at Eastern State College.

A January wedding is planned.

Mrs. Stiles Chairman of Garden Club Helping Senior Citizens

The following article is taken from the Independent Star News of Pasadena, California, concerning a native of Hazard, Mrs. Leland H. Stiles.

"Because a group of 44 garden enthusiasts wearied of concerning themselves exclusively with their own garden projects some 30 other women who no longer are able to have gardens of their own have acquired a new interest."

"Pasadena Little Garden Club founded 33 years ago initiated the second stage of the project this week in teaching women in Scripps Home, a Senior Citizens Home in Altadena, who were interested in how to make arrangements of dried flowers and plants to adorn their rooms. Mrs. Leland H. Stiles is the garden therapy chairman."

"The Project grew out of an observation last year by the president who quoted, 'I read in a book that a man called Christ went about doing good. It is very disconcerting to me that I am so easily satisfied with just going about.' Catching her spirit, the members decided they would see if enough women at the Scripps Home would be interested in learning how to make succulent planter gardens for their rooms."

"After a consultation with the superintendent the club volunteered to provide succulents, plant containers, soil, rocks, etcetera and to assist the women interested. More than 30 signed up for the experiment and when the day was finished 43 planters had been completed."

Club Votes To Landscape Eversole School Grounds

Pupils attending the Roy G. Eversole Elementary School take great pride in the recent landscaping of the school grounds by the Mountain View Garden Club.

In keeping with their beautification program, the club voted to landscape the school grounds, and in July of this year, Mrs. W. Glenn Reynolds, President, Mrs. Norman P. Cornett, Mrs. Floyd P. Hall, Mrs. John L. Ray, Mrs. M. B. Fields and Miss Wilberta Combs, club members, together with Mr. Estill McIntyre, Principal of the Roy G. Eversole School, and Mr. Roy G. Eversole, Supt. of the Hazard City School System met with Mr. Robert Shepherd, Specialist and Landscape artist from the University of Kentucky Experimental Station at Quicksand to formulate plans for the landscaping of the school grounds after the first of September.

Youths from the Neighborhood Youth Corps prepared the ground for planting, and the Brashear Flower Shop set in place forty-five Japanese Holly, Taxus and Barberry Shrubs in addition to a seven foot Washington Hawthorne tree. On next Arbor day members of the Mountain View Junior Gardenettes will plant a nine-foot Red Maple to complete the landscaping project.

Plans have also been made to landscape the Hazard Postoffice grounds within the very near future.

Club members have been busy since April replanting the shrubbery on Main street and repainting containers with the aid of Mr. C. C. Colwell, City Manager. Ten new baskets of artificial ferns have been hung on Main Street through the assistance of the Kentucky Power Company. Vining roses were also replaced in ten hanging baskets.

Garbage barrels placed near local schools were repainted and three new ones have been added.

As a part of their Civic participation, the club erected a beautiful nine foot white cross, at the intersection of High Street and Memorial Drive during the Easter season. Members were also active in the Perry County Clean-up campaign.

Henry Ward Answers Letter From Davis

December 14, 1965

Mr. Roscoe C. Davis
Davis Bros. Kenyon Auto Store
157 Main Street
P. O. Box 812
Hazard, Kentucky

Dear Roscoe:

Harry Huether showed me your letter of November 27 regarding the question of why Ky. 15 from Campton to Whitesburg has not been finished although both the Western Kentucky Parkway and the Blue Grass Parkway have been completed.

The answer is very simple. The Western Kentucky Parkway and the Blue Grass Parkway are toll roads and were constructed by the issuance of revenue bonds. The Mountain Parkway from Winchester to Salyersville also is a toll road and its construction was financed by the issuance of revenue bonds. Ky. 15 is not being built as a toll road because it was found that it was impossible to find a market for bonds to build it. We have been fortunate in being able to secure a route of the new Appalachian System along this highway which will guarantee its completion at an early date. In fact, I hope to have the entire remainder of the section between Jackson and Hazard under contract in 1966. As you know, we have three contracts under way between Whitesburg and Hazard.

If we had not been able to get Ky. 15 on the Appalachian System its construction would have been delayed because it would have had to be built out of regular federal aid funds and, therefore, only a share of the total could have been allocated for this highway each year.

I think there is some misunderstanding as to federal aid. While the people overwhelmingly approved the $139 million bond issue (this was especially true in Perry County) this money can be used only to match the regular federal aid which is allocated to the state annually. The total of federal aid is only $16 million a year, so only $16 million of the $139 million bond issue can be used. Fortunately, we will have around $33 1-2 million a year of Appalachian funds which we must match on a 70 - 30 basis. The $14 1-2 million of state funds required can be supplied out of the bond issue.

We also have been successful in getting US 119, US 23 and a section of Ky. 80 in Pike County on the Appalachian Program. This means that Ky. 15 will connect at Whitesburg with new improvements that will facilitate movement of traffic between Hazard and eastern points.

I am pleased to hear that you have been released from the hospital and are feeling much better. With best personal regards and good wishes, I am

Cordially yours,
Henry Ward
Commissioner

HARDWOOD HAPPENINGS

By Arlis Fields

The Ohio Valley Conference Tourney is now history and the matter of real business is at hand as regular season OVC play gets under way next week.

The first major battle looks like Monday night's Morehead visit to Richmond for a contest with Eastern's Maroons. Eastern was runnerup to powerful Western in the OVC tourney, but found the going a lot rougher in Detroit's Motor City Classic this week.

Eddie Bodkin, 6-7 senior forward, heads the attack for Jim Baechtold that also shows speedy Bill Walton and handy Doug Clemons at guards. Jerry Bisbey at 6-8 and John Carr at 6-9 give Eastern the biggest front line in the state.

Garfield Smith, 6-7, the first Negro to play at EKSC, has caught the fancy as a fireman as has 6-3 senior Dick Clark. Morehead's Bob Wright has come up with a respectable outfit in his first year as a college boss.

The Eagles are fighting injuries to three key performers in Sam Hall, Tommy Castle and Don DeClerq. Hall and DeClerq are back in action but the absence of Castle is still felt around MSC.

Jim Sandfoss tops Morehead scorers with good support coming from Charles "Sleepy" Adams, a Lees Junior College transfer, sophomore Bruce King and senior Larry Jordan.

We would have to say Eastern over Morehead in the first battle between the two this year.

Johnny Oldham's Western Hilltoppers have all the billings as the conference winner with Clem Haskins and the Smith brothers, Dwight and Greg heading the attack.

Wayne Chapman, UK transfer, mans the guard spot opposite Dwight Smith while 6-5 Steve Cunningham, the OVC's biggest little center controls the middle.

Oldham has employed the changing defense tactics that have proved so successful for UCLA the past two seasons.

Western may have already reached its peak as the topers played powerful Vanderbilt almost off its feet before dropping a 72-69 decision in the Vandy's tourney two weeks ago.

All in all it looks like a conference crown for Western with Murray and Eastern posing the main threats for the Hilltoppers.

The M. C. Napier Navajos will be in action this weekend as the long Christmas layoff ends.

Napier will visit Leatherwood Friday night at 8 p.m. for a battle with Lloyd Smith's Wildcats.

There may one change in the Napier lineup and that would see either Archie Sizemore or Harold Combs going at a guard with Brack Baker in place of Eddie Combs. Albert Combs gave no reason for the change but it is thought that discipline is playing a major role in the switch.

The Navajos haven't seen action since December 15 when they bombed Knott County 106-59.

"Leatherwood will give us trouble up there," Albert Combs said yesterday of his team's last contest of the current year.

The Navajos have a score to settle with the Wildcats stemming from this year's Leatherwood Invitational Tourney. Napier had won the meet for the past three years but when invitations were out for this year's event Napier was left out in the cold and not given a chance to defend its crown.

Carl D. Perkins Continues Tour Of District With Stop Here

It was announced today by the office of Congressman Carl D. Perkins that Mr. Perkins would continue his schedule of visits to the twenty-three Eastern Kentucky counties in the 7th Congressional District on the following itinerary:

Friday, December 31—1 p.m. Owensville, Bath County;

Saturday, January 1—9 a.m. Rowan County;

Monday, January 3—Perry County. During the day—Troublesome Creek, Carrs Fork. 7 p.m. Lick Branch;

Tuesday, January 4—Floyd County, McDowell, Ky. 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday, January 5—Meeting with State Vocational Education officials.

Throughout the Congressional recess, Perkins has scheduled meetings and visits to all of the twenty-three counties of the 7th Congressional District of Kentucky to discuss new Federal programs emerging from the First Session of the 89th Congress and to ascertain needs and desired programs for communities throughout the area. Perkins expressed the hope that he will be able to meet with as many citizens of the Eastern Kentucky area as possible during the brief time allowed between the First and Second Sessions of the current Congress.

The Second Session of the 89th Congress reconvenes on January 10. Perkins said that many legislative matters of importance to Eastern Kentucky and to the State would be coming up. Specific matters under the jurisdiction of the General Subcommittee on Education of which Perkins is Chairman which Perkins said required immediate attention were the expansion and extension of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, the broadening and extension of the Library Services Act, the expansion of the Adult Basic and continuing education programs, the broadening and expansion of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, expansion of Project Head Start and preschool programs.

In addition to these matters, Perkins said, "I am extremely hopeful that we can make maximum progress in securing full authorization in the funding of needed flood control and water resources development projects, the food stamp program and the work experience program conducted under the Economic Opportunities Act. I shall also be doing everything I possibly can to see the continued maximum funding of the Appalachian Regional Development program, the Vocational Education Act of 1963 and the Higher Education Act of 1965. It is also essential that we get under way programs authorized by the Public Works and Economic Development Act passed by the last Congress and to provide additional funds for this important program."

Farmer Kills Wife Attempts Suicide

Roland McIntosh of Breathitt County, who has been admitted to the Veterans' Hospital in Lexington, apparently tried to commit suicide after he killed his wife, Mrs. Retha McIntosh and his father-in-law, Oakley Combs early Christmas morning.

According to the Kentucky State Police, Roland stayed at his father's house on Christmas Eve, then returned to his home Christmas morning and killed his wife and father-in-law before shooting himself.

He shot Combs while Combs was still in bed according to reports. Combs died instantly and Mrs. McIntosh died later at the Mount Mary Hospital in Hazard.

Roland refused treatment at a Lexington Hospital at first according to officials, then the Breathitt County Judge signed an order for him to enter the Veterans' Hospital. He is reported in good condition.

Trooper Billy Johns investigated the incident.

The U.S. Mail Box and one of the soft drink vending machines are shown shortly after vandals make wrecks of them with the help of some sort of illegal fireworks Tuesday night. The mail box was located on Laurel Street near the Cash Food Market, while this particular "pop machine" was located on High Street, near Maggard's Typewriter Repair. Two other vending machines were also hit, one near the Taulbee Furniture Company on High Street, and the other near the mail box. The vandals apparently placed a small charge of fireworks in the bottling open section of the machines to force the door open and make it easier to reach the coin boxes. City Police and Federal Postal Inspectors are investigating these acts.

Mountain View Garden Club Gardenettes Present Play At Regular Meeting

"Christmas In Other Lands", a playlet from the National Gardener was presented by members of the Mountain View Junior Gardenettes before the Mountain View Garden Club members at the regular monthly meeting of the club at the Bobby Davis Memorial Library on Tuesday, December 14th.

Judy Hatfield, representing Italy stated that three weeks before Christmas, the mother gathers her children around her and admonishes them to do good deeds. After the deed is done, she writes it down, places it in a basket which is covered with a white cloth. On Christmas Eve, the mother brings out the candle and places the basket inside. At midnight, she replaces the basket with the Christ Child doll, and burns the unread papers - the children believe an angel picked up their good deeds and left a candle burning.

Betty Cornett, told of Christmas Eve at Martin Luther's. The blue walls covered by tapestries will be lighted by stained glass windows. An antique German Bible will be open to his favorite Christmas passage. Tinsel is everywhere because of a beloved legend. Many years ago there lived a kind woman with many children and little money who spent her time doing good. On Christmas eve she baked cookies but had nothing shiny to use for decoration. In the night spiders came and spun their webs, the Christ Child touched them and they became shining silver. Betty illustrated the German Christmas with a silver Christmas tree decorated with gold angels.

Lau in the garden at 5 p.m. on December 25th in Hawaii was given by Sherri Kawaji who used flowers, evergreens, poinsettias, and Santa Claus to illustrate the Hawaiian Christmas. She stated that the Lau, roast pig, lomi-lomi salmon and poi were included in the feast. The weather is eternally June, and flowers grow in profusion. The Christmas flowers are anthurium and poinsettias. A Christmas boat brings fir trees as evergreen do not grow on the islands. These trees are painted white to simulate snow.

Hazard You h Injured In Bicycle-Auto Crash

A Hazard youth, 15 year-old Tony See was injured last Thursday evening when Earl Bowling, Jr. of Combs hit the youngster who was riding a bicycle on the new section of Kentucky Highway 15 at Wolkertown.

See was taken to the Hazard Appalachian Regional Hospital by a doctor who was passing by when the accident occurred about 7:25 p.m.

State police said Bowling was passing another vehicle on the four-lane highway and when he came upon the youth riding the bicycle in the passing lane, he failed to see him until it was too late.

There were no lights or reflectors on the bicycle according to reports.

Trooper Jerry Pitcock worked the accident for the KSP.

"All Within A Five Minute Period"

Using painted posters for her illustration, Margaret Symon told of Christmas in Holland. She said that St. Nicholas, dressed in his Bishop's robes, accompanied by Black Peter with his bag of switches arrives by boat from Spain. Everyone gathers in the dining room, and a long rope thick with shiny ornaments, hangs from the ceiling. A knock is heard, and if the children have been good the father rings the bell and a hand throws peppermints on the floor and disappears. The children put out their wooden shoes.

Becky Baker stated that in India a Curry dinner was given on December 25th. All disputing sects in India declare a truce for a few days at Christmas due to the poem "The Song of the Blessed One". People go calling on this day and present a lemon as a token of high esteem.

Nancy Hall gave her illustration of the French Christmas by the placing of a creche, dolls representing members of the family, a pond, three candles, and a bird in a gilded cage. She stated that a creche was placed on a green cloth with bits of greenery to simulate a meadow. Around the holy family will be farm workers. The main dish is goose for the cackling announces the coming of the Wise Men.

Prior to the presentation of the program, the Club Collect was read by the president, Mrs. W. Glenn Reynolds. A short business session was held during which time, Mrs. J. W. Fouts gave a report of the success of the Community Christmas tree, and requested that everyone be written thank you letters for the cooperation the Club had received.

Cline Replaces Miller At Local Power Plant

W. R. Miller, supervising engineer of Kentucky Power Company's Hazard Division, will become supervising engineer of Kentucky Power's Pikeville Division. He will be succeeded by Allen D. Cline, distribution engineer in the Company's Ashland Division.

A native of Knott County, Mr. Miller graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1954 with a BS degree in electrical engineering.

Following graduation, he joined Kentucky Power as distribution engineer in the Pikeville Division. He served in the Transmission and Distribution and the Engineering departments prior to becoming power sales engineer in the Commercial Department. He was promoted to the Hazard Division in his present capacity in August 1964.

Married and the father of a son, he has been active in the Jaycees. The Millers will move to Pikeville in the near future.

Mr. Cline is a native of Pikeville and attended Pikeville College and the U. S. Naval Academy. He graduated from the University of Kentucky in June 1961 with a BS degree in electrical engineering, immediately joining Kentucky Power in Ashland.

He served in the Air Force in Texas and Germany. A member of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers and the engineering societies of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu, he has been active in Boy Scout work. He was recently ordained a deacon in the Calvary Episcopal Church.

He is married and has two sons. The Clines will move to Hazard in a few weeks.

Mr. Cline is a native of Pikeville and attended Pikeville College and the U. S. Naval Academy. He graduated from the University of Kentucky in June 1961 with a BS degree in electrical engineering, immediately joining Kentucky Power in Ashland.

FOR A PROSPEROUS 1966

Water Supply Problem

A built in or dug in, rather solution to the problem of water supply for many Eastern Kentucky Mountain communities has been proposed by the Blackey Area Improvement Committee, Inc., an activating agency under the Office of Economic Opportunity program and other projects available from other Federal agencies in the War on Poverty.

Blackey is a cluster of some 150 households with some 400 people along both sides of the North Fork of the Kentucky River in lower Letcher County. It was incorporated as a sixth class city during the coal-boom era in 1915 but after a flood and two disastrous fires the charter was allowed to lapse and has been so for over 30 years. It could be reactivated by a simple county court order if it becomes necessary.

Blackey's basic problem is education, as in other Eastern Kentucky communities. Problems intensified with the decline in coal employment and the consequent out-migration. More than 25 per cent of the best of the population migrated to other areas and states during the 1950-60 decade. The out-migration continues.

An immediately critical problem for Blackey is the water supply. The mountains to which these households cling are literally going dry. The wells and springs which furnished water over the last century and a half have gone dry, or are pumping offensive chemicals and salt. Others which fill with surface water are unsafe for human consumption.

Recently Letcher County Sanitarian Charlie Hall conducted spot-check of the community's water resources. More than half of his samplings were virtually dry. The surface wells all were condemned for human consumption unless boiled.

A well drilled by Dr. Lundy Adams to a depth of 208 feet still brought up salt water. (This Eastern Kentucky area once was an ocean bed, you know, several million years ago. There is ocean bed sand on Pine Mountain, and ocean fossils of animal and plant life are found frequently. Studies a few years ago by Dr. Walt Owens, a gynecologist at Whitesburg Appalachian Regional Hospital with geology as a hobby, pictured Pine Mountain as a slab of limestone 130 miles long and 15 miles thick, which was "buried up" by an upheaval of the earth's crust from the ocean bottom about 300,000,000 years ago. Only one other such slab of stone is known on the earth. It is in the heart of Africa.)

The Blackey Improvement Committee first started working for federal assistance in getting a reservoir built atop one of the mountains to conserve the winter rainfall which frequently causes floods in the valleys.

Now the committee, under the chairmanship of Verlon Shepherd, discussed with federal agencies the proposal to build a reservoir. Now they propose storage of fantastic amounts of excess water in abandoned mines.

The No. 7 vein of coal has been "worked out" in the mountain which over shadows Blackey to the north. It has been estimated that there are 300 acres of the hole in the mountain, from Elk Creek to Caudill Branch (Carbon Glow Hollow) on Rockhouse Creek. The hole created by three major operations—The Marion Coal Company, the Rockhouse Coal Company, and the C. B. Caudill-Bill Whitaker operation.

The three great holes are connected by breakthroughs, and could be used as one reservoir or separated into three. The coal vein was an average of three feet thick. The stratum slopes to the west, toward Elk Creek. For years a stream of water flowed out of the mine near the Paschal Dixon home on Elk Creek. When the C. B. Caudill operation was stopped several years ago "we were pumping water all the time, to be able to work," he said.

But apparently the mine vein has gone dry. If it still held water, the wells and springs below it in the mountain would receive the seepage and still have water. But they are fast drying up.

As amateur mathematicians we attempted to figure out how much water could be stored in a hole in the ground 300 yards in area and three feet thick.

We came up with a figure of 7,125,000 gallons of water. That is enough to do a lot of weekly washings for the housewives who at this moment have closets full of dirty clothes, waiting for the rain, which has been extremely scarce this summer and fall and now into the winter. The year before also was dry.

Proponents of the reservoir point out that after all, a 10-acre pond is not an awful lot of water, and with a "wet winter" and spring, it would soon fill up. The surplus would be used flow down the mountainside and be lost to us in floodwaters.

"Let's just run this extra water into the mine and save it," the water-seekers propose.

The water project has been presented to the Upper Kentucky River Area Development Council and to the office of John Whisman, Area Program Director for Governor Ned Breathitt, as liaison agent between the state and federal programs.

The Farmers Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has a program for such projects. This agency has been asked for application blanks to activate the Blackey Plan.

Projection '66

As the Old Year wanes into inevitable obscurity and the New Year dawns upon us bright and shiny, we are prone to wonder just what the future holds in store.

Close to home, we would hope and trust it would bring us at least one good first class road, and one start on a good flood-control dam along with the establishment of a two-year college in our immediate area. The road has been a political promise since roads were first started being built. The flood control dam was recommended in the late thirties, and money was appropriated for its construction in the last Congress. A contract was let in November for the construction of the first phase of the dam—giving us great hope that this much-needed protection will finally be a reality in the Kentucky River Valley.

The engineers are working around the clock planning and surveying the link from Hazard to Ison where the new section of six miles to Whitesburg is nearing completion.

The two-year college was voted on and approved by the Legislature along with four other two-year colleges, which have all been completed except the Hazard-Blackey area college.

Recently the Kentucky Board of Trustees voted to build two other two-year colleges—one in Louisville and another in Maysville, Kentucky, which, we must say, dims the luster of our hopes for the New Year since no mention was made of a college in our area.

We must say that our area has worked side by side with the present administration in a non-political and unbiased way to get the Bond Issue passed, which the state administration assured us was most important to our future plans and progress along with the progress of the State.

Needless to say, we do not want to appear pessimists, neither do we want to give up our plans and programs that have been promised and assured us, if certain measures received the voter's approval.

Therefore, we urge our citizens to never let our state administration forget for one moment the promises they have made to us which are long overdue. Let's all work to make 1966 the most progressive year in our history.

Herald-ings

by Mrs. Martha M. Nolan

Well, here we go again—as the shadow of the Grim Reaper is lengthening and soon time for the Year 1965 will be flickering flickering and then will be no more except in history. To many it has been a year of joy and gladness—to others sorrow and sadness. But we hope the joy will exceed that of sorrow.

When we read of the huge number killed on our nation's highways over 700; and still another holiday that will claim probably a similar number, we cannot help but shudder and sometimes we wonder if holidays are really worthwhile. "Death never takes a holiday, but holidays take deaths" is a true saying, and we wonder if it will always be this way. Let us hope that some means can be found to end this useless waste of human lives.

There are many ways in which to promote safety, but as a general rule we just sit back and say, "Let someone else do it."

Unless we all pull together, we will accomplish nothing. It is up to every citizen to pitch in and help. Back your police force, back good solid legislation and through your public support we can all have a hand in making Kentucky a safe place in which to live and drive.

On the bright side for a moment—1965 sees the erection of a brand new court house. Let us hope that it will ever remain a refuge, a temple of mercy and justice to all. It is certainly one of the most beautiful structures ever to be erected in the mountains.

Businesswise, 1965 was very satisfying for which we are humbly grateful. We tried very diligently to give the best of quality and service in job printing and newspaper work and we pledge to continue the same upgrading of our efforts in the coming year.

It was so good to receive kind and thoughtful messages from so many good friends from far and near. The number was too great to mention them all, but we can assure everyone that their greetings were joyously received and brought back to mind many fond memories from childhood on up to recent times. We thank you, one and all.

So HAPPY NEW YEAR AND BEST WISHES TO EVERYONE.

The Right Bait

A young boy of 5 was fishing in a bucket in his front yard when a passer-by stopped and asked, with a twinkle in his eye: "How many have you caught, young fellow?" "You're the third," the boy replied.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Johnson Dislikes Speed Bumps

Editor
Hazard Herald
Hazard, Kentucky

Dear Editor:

Regarding the Maple Street and Woodland Park speed obstructions in the traffic lanes it seems that other methods should have been tried first. It would be unusual to see such on streets in Cincinnati, Cleveland, or Chicago. If it did occur one would immediately wonder about the law enforcement service for speeders.

Maple Street and Woodland Park could have at their entrances above the traffic lane signs reading _____ miles per hour, violation $ _____ and _____ in jail.

With modern high powered cars and drivers indifferent to safety, dangerous speed can be made if the obstructions are placed as close as 100 feet apart.

Law enforcement cars equipped with two way radio and officers, one placed at each entrance of a street, can make the speed violator easily get-at-able.

If violations continue some consideration might be given to speed obstructions. On a modern city's streets these obstructions look bad, furthermore they interfere much if a visitor wants to get a mental picture of our fine city in the beautiful mountains of Eastern Kentucky.

Yours very truly,
P. L. Johnson

The Real Story of Vietnam

Dear Sir:

This is a letter from Sgt. Charles F. X. Dunn now serving in Germany, whose mother is a nurse: Sarah Dunn, at the Appalachian Regional Hospital.

"This Is One Man's Opinion of Vietnam."
I think our readers would like it. The opinion and the feeling you get from one soldier could influence a lot of other people's thinking.

Cordially Yours,
Ida Bowling

Dearest Mom,

May the grace and the peace of the Holy Ghost be with us forever.

My typing is worse than yours but I don't have any excuse. My arm wasn't broken, I am just a lousy typist.

Don't worry about Vietnam. Consider the army as a hidden knife, a knife for self-protection, and the war in Vietnam is just sharpening that knife. To sharpen a knife you have to cut away some of the metal until you get a fine edge and then the blade has to be honed by wearing it down. Our army is kept sharp by the "small wars" and the brush-fire wars. Our casualties are around 1,400 now. There were 600 persons killed within three days over the Labor day weekend just in car accidents. I don't see anyone burning themselves alive to bring the attention of the public to this national disgrace. Our 1,400 casualties were over a three or four year period not over a three day period. No one seems to mind a damn bit if you are killed in a bloody, screaming, tearing auto-wreck that is nothing but sheer stupidity. But they sure seem to object when a volunteer goes out and puts his life on the line for Democracy and the folks back home. I keep thinking about the people who don't want the war in Vietnam and what they would say if they had been born a Vietnamese instead of an American. Then they would be singing a slightly different tune than what they are now. I hear of the guys who burn their draft cards and I am glad that they did. I wouldn't want a dirty S _____ of a B _____ like that in my army. I am proud to be an American. I have seen the dirt roads in Korea, the filth in the streets and the slime in the rivers. I have seen the brutality and the poverty. And I love being an American. My taxes may be high but then so are my benefits. I, if I so desire, don't even have to work in order to live. The Red Cross, Salvation Army, Welfare organizations and county poor house will support me. I might not have the best but at least I would have the essentials of life. My country is the best and any man who doesn't want to pay the small price of two years out of his life for his citizenship and the citizenship of his wife and child, then deport the Bastard and let him live in Korea or Saudi Arabia or China, anywhere but not in the US. If I am killed in the service of the United States of America then consider yourself as having benefited. It was a cheap price for living in the US. I can think of no finer thing for your son than to give up his life in defense of freedom, your freedom or the freedom of a Vietnamese mother, whom you have never seen. If I am killed in the service my payment in full will be the burial plot in a military cemetery.

Sorry, got a little carried away there with myself. Your letter arrived with the money order.

We are well.

Got a card, letter and fruit-cake from Aunt Amelia. Still no letter from Tom. Got a card from Jackie.

Keep well.

Love as always,
Me.

ANOTHER DEED

That I couldn't pass up mentioning to what the Hazard JAY CEEs have done this past holiday season, they have turned over to the RETARDED CHILDREN'S PROGRAM over $700.00. Folks to me this is getting across what I think should be done by different organizations. It is going to take a lot to keep this program going, let me suggest that many of you civic minded people start thinking of what help you can do to promote such a program. Understand that this money was divided between the LEATHERWOOD and Hazard PROGRAM.

KIDS GALORE

Attended another civic project sponsored by the HAZARD JAYCEES, that the XMAS party that was wide open for all held in the Memorial Gym. About 2,000 kids received treats, had a chance to meet with a good SANTA CLAUS, also a Christmas program was presented for their pleasure. None were cullied in regard to the statutes of their families, folks it is hard to tell any more who is need, remember the Appalachian Program is doing what its leaders hoped that it would do. There fore, the Jaycees stated they could not discriminate between who has who this year. Good Idea I would say. Many fine things have come to pass in our area this past year. Lets hope that we can see it continue. I am sure we will when the roads are completed.

ANOTHER GREAT DEED

By a civic club came to pass this year, that was by THE LIONS CLUB as many of you know the LIONS CLUB offers their help to the children that have eye troubles, they have them treated, fitted with proper glasses and etc. Their program this year was the sponsoring of the flags, which to me was not only a great help to their cause, also the beauty of seeing the American Flags waving from almost every corner of our streets, it shows something that I have never seen before in other towns, that there is a patriotic feeling within the souls of all that have contributed to this program. To me this program served a two fold purpose, one helping others the other helping to promote civic pride with in our community. Folks this is something to think of.

THANKS TO MANY OF YOU

That have sent me greetings during this Xmas Season. I wish I could write about all of you. Two letters I received this Xmas I appreciated very much, one from Ernest Faulkner, the other from Rev. E. Tipton Carroll. They were very impressive to the facts of this season. Another letter I received came from many miles away, that was from Lt. Sidney Cornett of Dwarf, Ky., who is stationed in Vitenam. Folks his letter would raise the hair on most of our heads, more so when we read of boys burning their draft cards and etc. To me it is such fellows as Sidney that are giving so much, for what we might ask, if he was here he could tell you of the Vit Cong., that is the guerrillas that come into a village they will take a family and as he says it is horrible to what they will do to them, to make the rest of the community to provide food and shelter and etc. for them. Folks it is hearing from such people as Sidney Cornett that is facing the real facts of what is going on I think during this Holiday Season we should stop and offer thanks to what we have here in the U.S.A. Above all to our men that are shouldering the things in foreign Countries to keep it from happening to our children, women and elderly people. To you that are in ALL BRANCHES OF THE ARMED FORCES everywhere, may the time soon come when the next Xmas rolls around that you will be able to be home with your loved ones.

THIS THE DAY

After CHRISTMAS finds me finishing this column a few miles from Hazard, this 26 of December, I am in Owensboro, Ky., taking a few days with friends, we are visiting with Greebs sister, Judelle and husband Pete, who unfortunately is in the hospital from an accident that happened past August, of course it is not like Xmas of the past, but all are more thankful that it is as it is. Today here in the house is Bruce and his wife Judy, along with the life of the party their one year old daughter Kimberly. Pete's sister Virginia and her little daughter Majorie is also here. Despite many things such as sickness and other things we are fortunate once again to be with loved ones, which there are many others scattered to various parts of the world that it is not their fault that they can't be near their loved ones as close as so many of us are this day. Through the rest of this holiday season's why not take a count and see if your blessings are what you could expect them to be.

AS THE NEW YEAR

Rolls around, boys don't forget it is to renew your 1966 Hunting and Fishing license plus your new membership cards to your Local Fish and Game Clubs, boys belongs to your local organizations that supports the views and works for your interest in helping to preserve our natural resources needs each and every one of your support that buys a hunting and fishing license. This is the year that your Legislature will be in session, it could be a critical year for your interest to the great outdoors. That I would say is the reason that your name should belong on your Local FISH and GAME CLUBS MEMBERSHIP JOIN TODAY. It is your problem to see that your privileges are kept as you would like for them to be. HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

WEEKLY DISCUSSION
STATE GOVERNMENT

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Take 10 controversial issues and mix them with the usual partisan politics in the second legislative session of a governor's term and you have the ingredients for a lively session for the 1966 General Assembly.

Earlier legislators had been looking forward to not much to do but pass the governor's budget and then talk politics. But Gov. Edward T. Breathitt keeps adding to his list of important measures he expects to submit in his package. Now, the lawmakers are having second thoughts. Not only is the governor providing lively measures, but some private interests are getting into the act.

Probably the one that will draw the most debate among lawmakers is the proposed method of revising the constitution. The Constitution Revision Assembly will submit its recommendations some time in January.

Recommended changes in the judicial structure, leaving county office organization to the legislature, and appointment of the superintendent of public instruction are all separate battlegrounds for spirited debate.

Legislators also are expected to choose up sides on such lively topics as stronger strip mining laws, civil rights, campaign contributions, abolishment of capital punishment and congressional redistricting.

If this isn't enough to keep them busy, they can find time to state their divergent views on such questions as bail bond, automobile inspection, new insurance laws, abolishment of the whiskey production tax, and the appointment of county tax commissioners.

The Kentucky Education Association's legislative package, including salary increase of $900 in two years, will spark debate.

Not to be overlooked is the fact that legislators are going to be working hard to see that their districts get their fair share of the $176 million bond issue spent in their areas . . . $139 million of this will go into roads, but the $37 million for capital improvements is enough to fight over.

Seasoned legislators sometimes use such factors to bargain with the governor about when he needs their vote on a bill.

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and whiskey producing counties are trying to mount sufficient support to repeal the 10-cents a gallon whiskey production tax. Spindletop Research made a report recently showing it would be good for Kentucky's industrial future.

In addition to strengthening strip mine regulations the Department of Natural Resources has a package that will include new regulations for air and water pollution.

Also expected to come this session will be an effort to classify your property for tax purposes under the new ruling of the Court of Appeals that all property must be assessed at full fair cash value. Farm groups and homeowners are expected to support such a move.

The Department of Public Safety has been trying for about a year to pass an automobile inspection law to prevent accidents from faulty brakes, lights and other mechanical factors. Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern has said his department expects to concentrate this time on this one facet instead of a package as proposed past sessions.

County office holders are expected to be here in full force to try to prevent anything from being done to their offices under the proposals of the Constitutional Revision Assembly.

Lobbyists will have their hands full on measures affecting their special interests.

The Strangest Man Who Ever Lived

Reprinted from December, 15, 1965, issue of the United Mine Workers Journal, Message by Rev. J. J. Wicker

He never enjoyed a Christmas; but if He had not lived, there never would have been a Christmas for anyone.

He never had a business; yet the best business of the year comes at Christmas time because of HIM.

He never had a toy; but he has caused more toys to be made, which have given more joy to more children and more employment to more people than any other man that ever lived.

He rarely, if ever, received any gifts; but every year for more than nineteen hundred years He has inspired the giving of more gifts than any other person in history.

He never hung up his own stocking at Christmas, if in fact He ever had a stocking; yet He has caused more stockings to be hung at Christmas than all other men who ever lived.

When He was a mere infant, His parents had to flee to a foreign country to save His life; but He has given more joy to millions of children than any other man in all the world.

He was often hungry and never had bountiful food; but at Christmas and Easter He brings more sweets into more homes, and more bounty on more tables, more laughter and song everywhere, than any other man of all time.

He never went to school, so far as we know, but HE has caused thousands of schools, colleges and universities to be erected all over the world.

He did not leave a single written line; and all that is known of what He said could be put on one page of a metropolitan newspaper; but He has shed more light on things human and divine than all the educators and philosophers of ancient and modern times.

He never wrote a book or saw a library; but He has caused more books to be written and read than any other man in the world's history.

He had no dictionary; but He has given birth to more good words and cast the shadow of reproach on more bad ones than other man.

He knew nothing of architecture; but He has inspired the conception and erection of the most magnificent cathedrals and other beautiful buildings on the face of the earth.

He knew nothing of art; yet He has awakened the genius in the world's greatest artists and his inspired more works of art in more famous galleries than any other man.

He knew nothing of medicine; yet He healed the sick of every type of disease, caused the blind to see, the deaf to hear, the dumb to speak and even brought the dead to life.

He never heard an oratorio or a grand opera; but He has prompted the writing of the greatest hymns, songs of joy and oratorios, that have ever been heard.

He never owned any of this world's goods; but wealth has multiplied wherever He has become known.

He was never more than a hundred miles from His birthplace after His infancy; but His fame for nearly twenty centuries has spread into every part of the world.

He has offered kingdoms of the whole world; but He preferred the humble life and a spiritual kingdom.

His own nation rejected Him and crucified Him; but people of every nation on earth have praised and acclaimed Him.

He was the perfect pacifist; yet by the use of His one and only weapon—Love—He has overthrown some of the greatest empires.

He was born in a manger and put to death as a malefactor; yet after more than nineteen hundred years, He lives as no other man.

He was a Jew; but He is the only universal and international personality who has risen above all national and geographical lines and every racial instinct.

Great teachers religious and otherwise, speak only for their day and generation; but HE spoke for all times, conditions and peoples; and His truth anticipated every change the world has ever known.

Conquerors come, rise and fall, live and die, but this man has lived on through the centuries and every year increasing millions sing the triumph of His life and teaching.

Thousands of new laws are made and many old laws are revised every year—but the eternal truth He taught, like His unchanging character, is the same "yesterday, today and forever."

Great men live and die, and their influence becomes less and less as the years go by; but this strange man continues to live and influence more lives in a larger way with every passing year.

His one brief sermon, delivered in the open air, has become the Magna Charta and supreme law for all people for all the ages.

Every other man has had his faults; but the judge who condemned Him to an ignominious death publicly declared "I find no fault in this man."

He ever headed a government or had any armed forces at His command; yet countless millions bow at every mention of His name and sing anthems of praise and Thanksgiving for His life.

He associated freely with publicans and sinners, and His personal appearance was neither striking nor unusual; yet the world would give millions of dollars for an actual picture of this humble carpenter's son, who devoted himself to unselfish ministry for others.

His life on this earth covered only thirty-three years—from Bethlehem to Calvary—but the story of that life has been translated into every language and is acknowledged as the world's best seller.

Neither capital nor labor, however wide apart in other matters, can disagree in any wise with this humble man—he friend of all.

He is universally recognized as the final arbiter in theology and sociology, in divine demands and in human rights.

If the peoples and nations of the world would only follow His teachings, injustice, poverty and fear would be banished, and war would be no more.

He is—Jesus Christ—the Son of God—the one and only hope of the world!

THE STRANGEST MAN THAT EVER LIVED!
The Rev. John Jordan Wicker.

Charles Turner Is Eagle Scout

An Eagle Scout Court of Honor was held at the Hull Memorial Presbyterian Church by Boy Scout Troop 64.

The candidate for Eagle Scout was Charles Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner of Combs.

Charles has been active in scouting for five years and has held all troop leaderships, such as patrol leader, instructor and senior patrol leader.

He has served as instructor on the staff at Camp Shawnee at Dewey Lake for the past two years.

The program was given by scoutmaster Luther Grigsby and Eagle Scout Lyndon Skaggs.

Speakers for the occasion was Mr. H. E. Greer, of Hazard. The troop had an exchange of gifts after the event.

There are now five Eagle Scouts in Troop 64, they are: George Grigsby, Doug Hensley, Freddy Skaggs, Lyndon Skaggs and Charles Turner.

The troop is sponsored by the church with Rev. Malcolm Brownlee serving as pastor.

Assisting Grigsby as scoutmaster is Roy Fortner.

Shown in the picture above are former residents of Hazard who report an outstanding catch of fish November 18 in the West Fowl River just out of Mobile, Alabama. Shown are: Mr. and Mrs. B. T. McDaniel and a friend, all of whom live in Mobile, Alabama. Mr. McDaniel writes, "These are flounder red fish and there was not string to string all we caught. In all we had 51 fish."

5 EASY 5 HARD
by Sanders Petrey

1. John the Baptist. Luke 1:13
 2. Six. Luke 1:35-36.
 3. An angel of the Lord appeared to them with instructions. (Luke 2:9-16).
 4. Possibly they knew something of Hebrew prophecy and this plus their knowledge of the celestial universe plus the sign they saw in the sky was part of the tools the Holy Spirit used in giving them the insight God wanted them to have. (God often works through those things we understand.) They may have lived in Chaldea or Persia, or for that matter, they may even have journeyed from China or beyond in the "East".
 5. Even Collier's Encyclopedia speaks of the "THREE Wise Men" and uses Matt. 2:1-12 for reference. That's how strong the world believes it. But Matt. 2:1 just says "wise men". The Bible does not tell us anywhere that there were THREE! The three presents they gave may have prompted tradition to conjecture this. In those days, especially on long journeys, it was necessary for people to travel in LARGE NUMBERS for protection. There may have been a large company of wise men.
 6. Actually, the Bible doesn't say they inquired anything of Herod. Read Luke 2:1-9 CAREFULLY. The star had led them to Jerusalem. Bethlehem was practically a suburb of Jerusalem. Perchance day-break and sunlight at this point had obscured the star so that it was necessary to await its reappearing in the night time for finer pinpointing. In the meantime they inquired in Jerusalem "Where is He that is born King of the Jews?" Luke 2:2. In the next verse Herod "heard" about it. In verse 7 he sends for the Wise Men privately.
 7. This news would inspire certain restless factions to revolt and either they or the Romans under which he ruled would dispose of him. In this sense he feared that Jesus would "take" his throne.
 8. No. The Shepherds came while he was a Babe in the manger. Mary and Joseph were there.
 9. No. The Wise Men came when Jesus was in a house and Joseph was not mentioned as being there at that time. Matt. 2:11. When on the 40th day the parents took the Babe to the temple, they offered the smallest allowable living things. Luke 2:22-24 and Lev. 12:2-8. The Wise Men arrived after that, bringing rich gifts.
 10. As Rip says, "In ancient Rome the citizens used to give 'good luck' gifts of fruits, pastry, or gold to their friends on New Years Day." Possibly Christianity used the precedent established by the Wise Men and coupled it with the old Roman custom. Who knows for sure?
- AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers conclude this year's contest. There were four people who consistently sent in such deep, probing, spiritual answers that I have found it nearly impossible to determine anyone of these overall better than any of the other three. The winners are:
- Combs, Edith
Daniels, Mary Jane
Kawaja, George H.
Stevens, Elbert (Rip)
- To each of these we are sending a First Prize Gift Certificate.
- Beginning next week, the first Thursday of 1966, we begin a new contest and we urge everyone,
- Elder, Lad, and Lass

And Join the Class!!!
- You'll be encouraging others to probe the Scriptures --and to go to Church!!!

Christmas Without God?

by Edgar C. Bundy

"For unto us a child is born,
Unto us a son is given:
And the government shall be upon his shoulder:
And his name shall be called Wonderful,
Counselor,
The MIGHTY GOD,
The EVERLASTING FATHER,
The Prince of Peace."

—Isaiah 9:6

The New York Times for Sunday, October 17, 1965 carried one of the most shocking stories ever to appear in print during the current U. S. revolution against morals. Biblical Christianity, and nearly everything which true Americans have believed and held near and dear.

Headlined "New Theologians See Christianity Without God," the news account told of a group of "radical Protestant thinkers—variously known as 'atheistic,' 'death of God' or 'new' theologians—who have arisen to declare that 'Christian thought must now proceed without any reference to God.'"

Identified as three of the leaders of this school of "theology" were: Thomas J. J. Altizer of Emory University in Atlanta; William H. Hamilton of the Colgate Rochester Divinity School of Rochester, N. Y.; and, Dr. Paul Van Buren of Temple University, Philadelphia. Altizer is a layman with Episcopal background. Hamilton was ordained as a Baptist clergyman; and Van Buren was ordained in the Episcopal Church.

The Times reported that these three declare that the word "God" is meaningless and "that even if there once was a God, he no longer speaks to man." They further stated that "True Christianity is an affirmation of the secular world in the style of the man Jesus, and has no relation to traditional church practices such as worship, the sacraments and prayer."

A committee of forty of these "radical" style theologians was scheduled to meet in New York to plan for a three-day meeting of the radicals to consist mostly of "young scholars and students."

The leaders of this school assert that "talk of a divine or otherwise supernatural force is meaningless and irrelevant" because such "God-language" is not related to contemporary experience. In other words, belief in an omniscient, omnipotent, and omnipresent God does not suit the needs of "modern" man.

Dr. Van Buren writes in his book, THE SECULAR MEANING OF THE GOSPEL, that "in almost every field of human learning, the metaphysical (supernatural) and cosmological aspect has disappeared and the subject matter has been limited to the human, the historical, the empirical."

This was also the basis of Marx's doctrines which have plunged the world into a state of chaos and confusion such as history has never before recorded: the substitution of a belief in history of "this world-ness," for a supernatural, divine, and miraculous plan of salvation provided for sinful man by the intervention of Emmanuel (GOD with us).

The CHRISTIAN CENTURY of January 23, 1924 defined the battle lines thusly:

"Christianity according to fundamental (Biblical Christianity) is one religion and Christianity according to Modernism (denials of basic Christian doctrines) is another—"

There is a clash here as profound and grim as between Christianity and Confucianism. The God of the fundamentalist is one God, and the God of the Modernist is another—"

Which is the true religion is the question to be settled by our generation for future generations."

Forty-one years have passed since this radical voice of religion carried that statement. What changes have taken place in the theological seminaries, in the church-founded universities and colleges, in church publications, in church councils and the pulpits?

It used to be that little children passed by on the other side of the street when the village atheist held forth. Professional atheists, agnostics and infidels sprouted from rented halls with curious persons paying fifty cents a head to hear them tear God down off his throne and shake their fists toward heaven in a melodramatic plea for God to strike them dead if there were such a heavenly being. But, this technique of denial has long been supplanted with the academic aura of theological learning which "proves through modern research techniques" that things we once believed or took "literally" from the pages of Holy Writ are now no longer true or must be "re-interpreted" in modern language to suit the "modern" mind. Christianity now becomes, according to the seminary greats, participation in the secular problems which face a mechanized and complex society, such as "sit-ins," "lie-ins," "peace walks," "picketing," "free speech movements," and a myriad of demonstrations for this and that. The God and Christ of the Scriptures are thought of as mythical characters who were originated in the age of darkness and ignorance and were handed down to us as folklore or the culture of some ancient unenlightened peoples.

What difference does it make if all the prophets of the Old Testament, the Apostles and Evangelists of the New Testament, the Christian martyrs who died at the stakes or on burning crosses drenched in pitch, the theologians of 1900 years, the preachers, the Bible scholars, the composers of the great doctrinal hymns of the Church, the George Friedrich Handels with their thrilling "Hallelujah" choruses, the Bachs, Beethovens, Haydns, Wesleys, Panny Crosbys, Phillips Brooks, and Martin Luthers, the Michelangelos, the Rubens, the Raphaels or the Rembrandts all attested to the MIGHTY GOD and His mighty acts, supernatural and divine in revealed glory when "Modern" scholars and "Liberal" theologians can now let us in on a secret, evidently concealed for nearly 2000 years, that the church was steeped in ignorance for all these generations and has only been brought out into "the light" since the "Modern" theologians appeared on the scene!

Louis Cassels, religion writer for United Press International, revealed in his column for August 15, 1964 and again on March 6, 1965, that modern religious scholars are abandoning the basic precepts of Christianity and "are casting overboard doctrines which have been at the core of the church's teaching for 2000 years."

Cassels writes:
"The attempt to 're-interpret' the Christian gospel has been under way for a good many years. But until recently, it was carried on in theological doubletalk which few laymen could follow."

The UPI religion writer declared that "the issue is whether the Christian message needs to be radically recast to make it plausible to modern man." Identified as among the leaders who were calling for a "drastic overhaul of the conceptual package in which the Gospel is presented" were Rudolf Bultmann of Germany and Paul Tillich of the University of Chicago in the United States, an immigrant from Germany who saw a Nazi under every conservative bed in the United States before his recent death in October of 1965.

Two more of the moderns mentioned by Cassels are Bishop A. T. Robinson of the Church of England who questions the existence of God in his book HONEST TO GOD, and the much over-publicized controversial Bishop James A. Pike of the Episcopal Church. Cassels avers that the Bultmann-Tillich-Robinson-Pike school "is not in agreement on which parts of the New Testament are to be retained as 'kernel' and which may be jettisoned as out-of-date 'husk.'" Cassels adds:

"But there is tacit understanding among most of the re-interpreters that any biblical account of a physical miracle must automatically be labeled mythical. Even the supreme miracle which gave birth to the church—the resurrection—is regarded as a subjective experience of the disciples rather than an objective historical event."

So there they sit, on top of the Bible, God's inerrant, divinely inspired eternal revelation of Himself and His will for man, like vultures on a pile of flesh, tearing it apart piece by piece until nothing but a skeleton is left.

Dr. Samuel Sandmel, distinguished Jewish theologian, writer and Provost of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, writing in the Phi Beta Kappa journal, The American Scholar, scathingly indicts such modern conceit, veiled as scholarship:

"Theologians have abandoned their premises—in part deliberately and in part unconsciously. To a great extent, modern theologians justify their departure into secularism by using traditionally religious terms, divesting them of pristine (pure) meaning by defining them in a sense consistent with science and them using the terms in the pristine way."

Such a technique is rightly described as hypocrisy, or using the "front" strategy. Using terms which mean one thing biblically and historically to the listener and another thing to the user who is seeking to deceive the listener or reader is the worst kind of hypocrisy, especially in the religious field!

Dr. Sandmel continues:

"I can find it admirable in a Christian to say that he believes in the Virgin Birth or in an ex-Christian to say that he disbelieves. But when a theologian informs me that the Virgin Birth is not to be taken literally, I confess I am not moved to admiration. At the best, these ancient terms now become mere slogans, catchwords, that seek from religious antiquity an authority and sanction to which in the reinterpreted sense they are not entitled."

"At the worst, these reinterpreted terms raise seriously the question of the intellectual integrity of the users."

The amazing thing is that many church people who are prone to accept anything their official denominational preachers, writers or theologians say or write without question cannot recognize such lack of integrity or hypocrisy when it stares them in the face. Instead of defending the Christian Faith and the head of the Church, the Lord Jesus Christ, they will smile at the marvelous display of theological rhetoric as a mark of a man who knows what he is talking about, regardless of whether or not they can understand or interpret what has been said. As the Lord Christ, Himself, said: "Blind leading the blind." The tragedy is, however, that the ditch is the end for the deceivers and the deceived!

No wonder that many of those who have denied the Faith, while still wearing the robes and identification tags of old-line religious denominations, are found fixing their names to Communist petitions, joining Communist front organizations, berating security agencies and laws, and distracting the people's attention from an atheistic conspiracy by erecting a strawman boogey called "Rightwing Extremist," meaning one who takes a stand for God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Bible, Christian Doctrine, and Christian morality!

If they deny the God of the Bible and His plan for man's redemption through the incarnation, crucifixion and resurrection of His Only Begotten Son, what do they have left to stand upon or to offer a people looking desperately for a sure foundation in a world which is shaking to its core and is battered by the hosts of satanic origin? The answer is obvious: Take away the supernatural the divine and the miraculous and there is nothing remaining but materialism, things here and now; no immortality, no heaven to gain and hell to shun; no conviction of sin, therefore no need for a supernatural Saviour; no need to sing about a "Divine Redeemer," if no one needs to be redeemed; no need to be good if the bad brings material satisfaction here and now, or if there are no judgments and rewards in a Hereafter. Dr. Gerhart Niemeyer, Episcopalian and Professor of Political Science at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Indiana, warned how far those who reject God and His plan for men's lives can go:

"Many who reject the supernatural and still want a comprehensively meaningful view of things are attracted by communism. Many, also, who are interested in changing the world, interested in planning, interested in making everything new according to their own design are attracted by communism. And many who combine these two interests and want through change and in change to validate a comprehensive and this worldly view of history, are particularly attracted to communism."

"For all these people, of course, communism takes the place of religion. It is the religion of the intellectual who can no longer believe in God, who wants to substitute for the belief in God a belief in history, a belief in the scientific comprehension of history, a belief in the self-unfolding material forces of this life, and who finds all this provided by communism in a system which as a whole seems rational enough and convincing enough and certainly is the only such system on the horizon."

And so, we look around at this time and see the "world-changers" and "planners" in action at home and abroad: Without God, without God's Son, mocking, chanting, ridiculing, parading, demonstrating—unkempt, dirty, profane, vile, immoral, contemptuous, law-breakers, haranguers, delinquents, lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, truce breakers, false accusers, incontinent, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high-minded (know-it-alls), lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God—ever learning and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth; men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.

There is the way the Bible describes them. Not a pretty picture, but as apropos in 1965 as when it was written in the First Century A.D.

This is the picture of the times immediately preceding the Second Advent of the MIGHTY GOD, the EVERLASTING FATHER, and THE PRINCE OF PEACE. Oh! We can see the smirk on the visage of the intellectual "world-changer" as he reads it; but remember that this is what they did before HE came the First time, conceived of the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary without a human father—Emmanuel, God Himself dwelling among us—announced by angels and received by a handful of shepherds and wise men while the masses were filling the "inns" (read taverns) before reporting to Caesar's bureaucrats.

For centuries the world that then was had the Holy prophecies concerning the details of his entrance from the throne of Heaven into the world of men available to them, even down to the fine point of where he would be born and under what circumstances. God came, but men didn't like His solution to their problems any more than they like it today in the age of "science," "enlightenment," "scholarship," "security" and the government program for the "Great Society." They lied about Him, they laughed at, and ridiculed Him, they betrayed Him, they thought they had killed Him, they murdered His followers, but they couldn't do away with GOD, any more than they will be able to do away with HIM today, despite their God-less "theology."

No wonder the Psalmist wrote:
"He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh:
The Lord shall have them in derision."

God Almighty will have the last laugh, and what an awesome and terrible laughter it will be, the laughter of the Judge of the Universe who "shall break them with a rod of iron" and "dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."

As I sit here writing this tonight I am listening to the golden voice of another age on records, that of John Charles Thomas, whose father was an oldtime revival preacher who believed God and His Word. I hear that magnificent God-given voice singing, though now in the grave in California:

"I Love to tell the story of unseen things above,
Of Jesus and His glory, Of Jesus and His love.
I love to tell the story, Because I know 'tis true;
It satisfies my longings, As nothing else can do.
I love to tell the story, 'Twill be my theme in glory,
To tell the old, old story, Of Jesus and His love."

Now he has changed to:

"Faith of our fathers living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword.
O how our hearts beat high with joy
Whene'er we hear that glorious word!
Faith of our fathers, holy faith!
We will be true to thee til death."

What blessed assurance comes to the heart in tune with its Creator, Saviour and Sustainer when he hears such words and music which can only originate from One who lives and reigns and who inspires His servants and beloved children to lift their heads and hearts and say:

"I know that my Redeemer liveth and Because He lives, I, too, shall live."

What meaning this Blessed Christmastide has for the one who has trusted Emmanuel, Christ, the Second Person of the Godhead, as his Saviour and Lord! His heart is filled with praise and gratitude that one day, a point in time, GOD came down to save unto the uttermost those that come to Him in faith believing; that He freely gave His life for mankind's sin; rose victoriously from a grave that could not possibly hold the Creator; ascended back to the throne from whence He came; ever liveth to make intercession for the believer, his child, and is one day coming back again in great power and great glory to "make all things new" as the Book of the Revelation, the ending of the Bible, says He will do.

Walk outside tonight; stand silently and gaze up into the heavens. Count the stars, if you can. Listen to the music of heaven as it reverberates through the entire cosmos:

"JOY TO THE WORLD; THE LORD IS COME;
LET EARTH RECEIVE HER KING;
LET EVERY HEART PREPARE HIM ROOM,
AND HEAVEN AND NATURE SING,
AND HEAVEN AND NATURE SING,
AND HEAVEN, AND HAVEN AND NATURE SING."

Thank Him from the bottom of your heart that He, the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth, and He shall reign forever and ever, despite what the "Moderns," the "Communists," the world-changers, the "Intellectuals" and all the other collective dust fragments might speak to the contrary.

If you have never received Him, personally, as your Saviour, then bow your head and heart under those millions of silent star witnesses in the Heavens and pray with the unseen chorus of the Redeemed:

"O holy Child of Bethlehem! Descend to us,
we pray;
Cast out our sin, and enter in. Be born in us today!

We hear the Christmas angels, The great glad tidings tell;
O come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Immanuel!"

You will then hear His voice come ringing down through the ages as he spoke the promise on the shores of Galilee:
"All that the Father giveth me shall come to me;

and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

This is the only true solution to "modern" man's problems.

At Church Next Sunday

If I knew you and you knew me,
How little trouble there would be.
We pass each other on the street,
But just come out and let us meet,
At Church next Sunday.

Each one intends to do what's fair,
And treat his neighbor on the square,
But he may not quite understand
Why you don't take him by the hand,
At Church next Sunday.

This world is sure a busy place,
And we must hustle in the race.
For social hours some are not free,
The six week days, but all should be,
At Church next Sunday.

We have an interest in our town,
The dear old place must not go down;
We want to push good things along
And we can help some if we're strong,
At Church next Sunday

Don't knock and kick and slam and slap,
At everybody on the map,
But push and pull and boost and boom,
And use up all the standing room,
At Church next Sunday
